

TableStar Games, LLC

TableStar Games, LLC is a game company located in Berkeley, CA that makes fun and unique games. TableStar Games, LLC first ventured into the game market with its first hobby game release, Time Control, that experimented with simultaneous play. Then in 2006, TableStar Games released its innovative HeroCard line which combined card games and board games and allowed them to be customizable and interchangeable. With the HeroCard line selling strong in the hobby market, more HeroCard releases are planned for the next several years.

Martinis and Men is the first of many TableStar Games releases for the mass market and their first aimed at a primarily female audience.
